BREED THEATER

Silver Wing's Two Suitors, the Picture Sensation for Today.

Without doubt one of the most thrill Without doubt one of the most thrilling Indian pictures ever seen in this city is the one at the Breed today entitled Silver Wing's Two Suitors, one of the markelous productions of the great Pathe company. The real sensation of the picture is where the two rivals for the hand of Silver Wing have a strumous struggle on the river while in their cames. Both are precipitated into the turbulent stream, but continue their hand to hand fight until the falls are reached. They are centinue their hand to hand fight un-till the falls are reached. They are carried over, locked in their maddened embrace, and on and on, through the foaming cascades, until the unworthy suffor is overcome with fatigue and he surrenders to the waters, leaving the other brave to return to his redskin sweetheart.

The Biograph comedy is of the Biograph comedy is of the the popular funmakers of this great cast, while a superb scenic spectacle by the Selig company is entitled A Messenger to Kearney.

DAVIS THEATER.

The show given at the Davis theater for Thursday, Friday and Saturday is the longest ever given in this city for the price charged. This has been made possible because of the fact that the management were put in rather an embarrassing predicament when The Two Orphans, which they had advertised extensively, failed to arrive. The General Film company, who were responsible for this failure to ship, are granting Mr. Davis the privilege of helding this feature story over for tonight. The subject will be lectured as 3.30 this afternoon and at 3.45 this evening by Manager Pelton.

The wild west sketch The Tenderfoot is the greatest laugh producer yet seen in the house since its taking over by the new management. Marlowe and Funket, who, by the way, have been together for the past 37 years, are performers of the old school, the sort who manage without the aid of slapsticks to keep their audience in the very best of humor, create much hearty laughter and recall the days of our youth and the ministrel shows of the past.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Leigh De Lacy & Co., which the management of the Auditorium had the good fortune to book for the first three days of next week, was compelled yesterday to cancel her engagement here for the present on account of a mishap which took place while she was working in Stamford on Thursday evening. Miss De Lacy, however, promises to give the Auditorium another data in the near future.

promises to give the Auditorium another date in the near future.

In place of the above act the management have booked a very good comedy sketch with three people in the cast entitled A Matrimonial Wager. This playlet is handled by good people and promises to be one of the funniest acts which has played the Auditorium this season.

The Conders, European novelty musical artists, will present a very neat offering in the musical line, and Chas. Ledegar, The Flying Dutchman, will introduce a bounding rope act which is a sure winner and something that has not been seen in this city in a long time.

Waterbury.—The local postoffice authorities are making an effort to cut down the number of mall bags in despatching the mail from this city. The annual weighing of the mall is taking place shortly and in order to have as, few pouches as possible, the mail from a number of the smaller towns will be enclosed together.

Greenwich.-Mrs. Edmund Coggeswell Converse died this week after two weeks' illness at her husband's estate, Conyers manor. Besides her husband, who is a steel magnate and president of the American Bank Note company, she is survived by a son and two daughters. One, formerly Mrs. Morrill, is now the wife of Baron Maximilian von Romberg, a German armylofficer.

Harbors of the Pacific Coast. The coast line of the Pacific coast of the United States is defined by the United States coast and geodetic survey as 1,852 miles long from headland to headland, and 3,900 miles long with indentations. Originally its natural harbors may be said to have been confined to San Francisco, San Diego, those on Puget sound and the Columbia river. As populations increased in California, Oregon and Washington, there was a corresponding growth in water-borne traffic, and congress, from time to time, made appropriations for the improvement of rivers and harthe improvement of rivers and harbors. Oregon has received the greatest sum, $24,500,000; Callifornia's appropriations have totaled $19,300,000, and Washington has been granted $10,175,000. To the above should be added the immense outlay for railway terminal wharves, municipal wharf systems and the expenditures by corporations and individuals; bringing the approximate total up to probably over $100,000,000.

You sheaves were once but so will ripens into deed.
As case-drops swell the street Day-thoughts feed nightly dr And sorrow tracketh wrong.
As echo follows song.
On, on for ever.

By night, like stars on high. The hours reveal their train; They whisper and go by; I never watch in vain;

They pass the cradle-head.
And there a promise shed;
They pass the moist new grawand bid rank verdure wave;
They bear through avery either
The harvest of all time;
